The profile of Sakura City

[Overview]

Sakura City is situated northeast of central Tochigi prefecture, close to the prefectural capital, Utsunomiya. The residents and visitors are equally fascinated by the beauty of its landscape, the quality healing hot springs and the old streets and buildings with refined simplicity of the old castle town and prosperity of post- town of old days.

[Principles]

The city boasts its principle of community development is "To establish sustainable and independent administrative & financial foundations for stable and joyful life for every citizen of the city."

[City Logo]

The Logo comes from Sakura City's "Sa($\stackrel{>}{\succeq}$)". The heart-shaped petal represents a heart of caring that flies away to the bright future,

[City Flower/City Tree: Cherry tree & cherry blossoms]

Sakura City has numerous spots of beautiful cherry blossoms. People love and cherish the gift of nature so much that they decided their city tree is "Cherry", wishing their homeland will be covered with cherry blossoms.

[City Bird: Wagtail (Japanese Sekirei]

Many rivers run through Sakura City. You may happen to see a wagtail that, they say, prefers the water's edge on gravelly clear rivers. The city decided to make "wagtail" the city bird hoping all the local streams are kept clear for good.

[Attractive Sakura City]

Plentiful flower spots to Visit

There are plenty of cherry blossom spots in Sakura City. Also, in late May, colorful poppy flowers will be in full bloom along the bank of the Arakawa River, and the popular Poppy Flower Festival will be held.

[Hot springs beneficial to beautiful skin]

The Kitsuregawa Hot Springs resort is here. It's known as one of Japan's top-three hot springs effective in clearing the skin." You will feel refreshed in mind and body. You can enjoy open-air bath or footbath in a variety of facilities.

[Fresh and Tasty foods]

Enjoy fresh and juicy fruit and vegetables in-season such as strawberries and apples. Also, you can't forget to include the best freshwater fish, Ayu.

[Fascinating Beauty of Nature]

Feel and enjoy the blessings of nature every season; flower viewing in spring, fishing of Ayu in summer, apple picking in autumn, just to name a few.

Sakura City has 75 residents' associations across the city. They are officially called Gyōsei-ku (administrative section), but generally known as Jichi-kai (residents' associations).

Various activities are conducted for each community including voluntary works, children's nurturing activities, or social/cultural events at a local community center, which are mainly led by Gyōsei-ku.

If you move in to Sakura city, join Gyōsei-ku of your living area and make for a better and warm neighborhood relationships together!

See reverse side for details.

Sakura city / Committee of section chairs

Gyōsei-ku (administrative sections, or residents' associations) carries out various activities to make your town a better place to live in, based on their amity between neighborhood. Join Gyōsei-ku and participate in the community activities!

Without Gyosei-ku, it will be a big problem!!

Gyōsei-ku is closely related to our daily life. What kind of activities/works does it carry out?

The activities of volunteer fire companies in the city are based on the expenses paid from Gyōsei-ku.

The cooperation of Gyōsei-ku is essential for their continuous and stable activities.

Many security lights (street lights) in the city are operated and maintained with the help from Gyōsei-ku. The city and Gyōsei-kus cooperate with each other to keep streets safe for children.

The semi-annually-held simultaneous city-cleaning -up activities and other cleaning-up activities are organized by Gyōsei-ku. Their activities highly make a contribution to beautify the city.

If you join a Gyosei-ku, what is goint to happen?

Is it troublesome? Hard? No, no, it's not.

You can take part in local events including civic athletic meetings and local festivals. These new experiences must give you opportunities to meet new people.

You can get the information from Sakura city through circular notice. It will be delivered by your next-door neighbor. After checking the notice, then, it's your turn to deliver it to the other next-door neighbor.

During emergency or disaster, the neighborhood cooperation is crucial. If you are in trouble and need a help, your neighbors will help you.

For application for joining, contact Ku-Chō, or the chair of Gyōsei-ku (Jichi-kai, or residents' association) of your area.

If you don't know who is the chair or you need further information, please feel free to contact us to the followings:

Earthquake - Manual in case of disasters

10 points of safety countermeasure

Check point:

The most important point to protect yourself from earthquake is preparation on a daily basis. Keep in mind what to do when it happens in order to avoid secondary disaster such as injury and fire.

1. Protect yourself first! Injury will delay turning fire off evacuation. Take adequate measures in case futniture and other things fall.

2. Turn off fires quickly

Act quickly if you feel the shake. Establish a habit to avoid leaving something combustible near the fire.

3. Open the door to get outside Sometimes doors would not open from the shake. Open the door for evacuation.

4. Extinguish fire quickly If it catches fire, extinguish before it reaches the ceiling. Don't panic.

5. Do not rush to get outside Dashing out may cause injury. Be calm to judge.

6. Stay away from narrow street and concrete block walls

Concrete block walls and vending machines may collapse.

Evacuate quickly.

7. Cooperate for first aid Cooperate with local residents for first

8. Be cautious about landslides Understand the environment of the area vou live and prevent secondary disaster.

9. Walk to evacuate Driving to evacuate is dangerous and could obstruct emergency dispatch. Calm down and follow rules.

10. Get correct information

There is only one truth. Do not get confused by wrong information and act properly.

Case 1. Drawer has fallen at the time of earthquake, but I was fine because there was no other large furniture.

Point: It's important to avoid furniture from collapsing and create room for safety in the house.

Case 2. Entrance door had warped and locked in. I broke window glass to escape.

Point: Need to be careful with steel made doors. It's important to get evacuation routes other than entrance.

Case 3. House collapsed and I was trapped underneath, but I was rescued with my neighbor's help.

Point: It's important to communicate with community on a daily basis and help with each other.

Case 4. There false rumors after earthquake, but I was not confused by them thanks to information on radio.

Point: It's important to get correct information on radio to act.

Earthquake intensity scale chart by JMA

Indoors: Things hanging such as lights will make a large swing, and plates on a shelf will rattle. Unstable things may fall.

Outdoors: Power lines will make a large swing, some people will notice while driving.

Indoors: Things hanging such as lights will rock hard, plates and books on shelf may drop. Most of the unstable things will fall. Furniture that is not fixed may move and fall if they're unstable.

Outdoors: In rare cases, window glasses may break and fall. Power poles are clearly shaking. Road may get damaged.

Indoors: Many plates and books on shelf will drop. TV may drop off the table. Furniture that is not fixed may drop.

Outdoors: Window glasses may break and drop. Concrete block walls without reinforcement may collapse. Unstable vending machines may fall. Difficult to drive and some cars would stop.

Indoors: Most furniture that is not fixed will move and some will fall.

Sometimes doors would not open.

Outdoors: Tiles on the wall and window glasses may break and drop.

Indoors: Most furniture that is not fixed will move and many will fall.

Outdoors: Tiles on the wall and window glasses on many buildings will break and drop. Most of the concrete block walls without reinforcement will collapse.

Indoors: Most furniture that is not fixed will move and collapse. Some will flap.
Outdoors: Tiles on the wall and window glasses on many buildings will break and drop. Some concrete block walls with reinforcement will be damaged.

Lifeline

Gas supply stop: Gas meter (microcomputer meter) with safety device will have shutoff device turned on with the shake of approx. scale 5 lower and above top stop gas supply. Entire local community may get gas supply stops when the shake is more intense.

Water and power outage: Area with approx. scale 5 lower and above may get water and power outage.

Railway stops, traffic control on expressway: When the scale is approx. 4 and above, they will stop operation, set speed limit and control speed on railway and expressway in order to confirm safety, based on operator's decision (safety criteria depends on operator and area).

Communication failure such as phone: When there is an earthquake, areas with large shakes and surrounding areas may have trouble getting on a phone due to phone calls and internet use to confirm safety, give comfort and make inquiries.

Therefore carriers will provide messaging dial and message board in case of disaster when there is an earthquake of scale 6 lower and above.

Elevator stops: Elevators with earthquake control system will stop automatically for safety when there is an earthquake of scale 5 lower and above. It may take a while to resume due to safety checks.

Types of earthquakes that occur in Japan

Earthquakes occur from fault movement and can be classified into 3 major types.

- 1. Earthquakes that occur on plate boundary
- 2. Earthquakes that occur in plate
- 3. Earthquakes that come from active fault inland

Oceanic plate is sagging underneath continental plate, and there is a strong compression on either East to West or Southeast to Northwest. There are many earthquakes in Japan due to these oceanic plates sag and compression of continent that comes along.

- 1. Massive earthquakes that occur at the trench of plate boundary
- 1'. Earthquakes on other plate boundary
- 2. Earthquakes that occur in plate
- 3. Earthquakes that come from active fault inland

Plate structure right below southern Kanto and earthquake types that occur

Plates around Japan and mechanism of earthquakes

Plates around Japan

There are oceanic plates underneath continental plates at the bottom of Pacific Ocean in Japan, and there may be subduction-zone earthquakes at the level of magnitude 8 when the end of plate jumps at these plate boundaries.

How subduction-zone earthquakes occur

Oceanic plate moves couples centimeters per year toward continental plate and get underneath.

The end of continental plate gets dragged and accumulates distortion.

Fault formed Earthquake

When the distortion hits the limit, continental plate jumps and earthquake occurs. There may be Tsunami.

What Earthquake Early Warning is

Earthquake Early Warning is a prediction and warning for earthquake motion which gets and analyze data on seismometer close to the focus, infers focus and intensity of earthquake (in magnitude) right away, estimate the time that primary shock reaches and intensity scale in each area and notify as soon as possible.

Information about sediment disasters

Evacuate right away if any abnormal circumstances happen even slightly

Types of Mudflow

landslides flow Debris flow

As water soaks into the ground and weakens its resistance, the slope slips off all of the sudden. The Most popular type of sediment disaster in Japan. Many people died to be left behind.

because of torrential rains on the valunerable land, the gravidy of underground water let a part of the slope go downward. The flow spreads widely at one time. Great harm on infrastructures and houses.

Rocks and sand on the valley and slope slip off because of heavy rains. The flow destroys everything forward with a great impact and overwhelming speed

What you should do: Evacuate immediately in event of sediment disaster.

Pay extra attention on weather information through the internet and local radio when raining unusually.

Be aware of signs of sediment disaster (examples below)

Sound from a cliff

Cracking and deformation of slope

Water containing mud from cliff

Cracks on the ground and walls
Tilted houses, walls, trees and poles
River water contains mud

Rumblings in the mountain

Low level of river water even it keeps raining

River water contains mud

Please contact Yaita civil engineering office at 0287-44-2185 or Sakura city hall at 028-681-1111 if you notice any signs of mudflow

Sediment disaster information on the Internet sediment disaster warnings info (↓書ききれなかったのですが四つ目です)

Where are Hazardous locations

Cliffs with an incline of over 30 degrees is most likely to fall off with heavy rain.

Be careful of walls ,because they might fall due to their years and structure.

the Concept of warning zone and special warning zone

Warning zone, so called "Yellow Zone", and special warning zone, so called "Red Zone". Are designated by the Act on Sediment Disaster Countermeasures for Sediment Disaster Prone Areas. In order to spread information, allow swift evacuation, and restrict development activity in areas where landslides pose a risk..

An area of particular danger of sediment disaster which is designated according to the condition of land forms based on the cases of the past.

- -Steep slope (cliff); area of 2X of the height of the slope from the bottom (maximum 50meters)
- -debris flow; area of 2X of incline of the ground
- -flow; the exact area a flow happens (maximum 250 meters)

Red Zone

An area where is most likely to harm residents and buildings.

It is designated by a calculation and comparison test of proof strength of building and strength of mudflow

Special warning zone

The structural regulation of building

Building a new house, extending and reconstructing require the application of building confirmation.

Special warning zone

Restriction on special development activity

Need to take measures against sediment disaster

Developing activity of Building facilities which accommodate care-requiring people in event of disaster such as hospitals and nursing home for the aged requires permission.

Special warning zone

Request for moving homes

Need to be moved from Red zone to a safer area

City governments have a right to urge owners or manager of buildings that could cause serious accidents which would get residents and users in danger of their lives to move the buildings.

Information on Flooding

Be careful of sudden downpour

Sudden downpour refers to heavy rain that falls over a small area in a short time. It often occurs at the end of the rainy season. It is comparatively difficult to forecast because it occurs suddenly. Severe damages caused by floods of small-and-medium-sized-rivers, mudslides and landslides can be forecasted.

Around cliffs or in developed land, the alluvial fan etc., make sure to pay attention to the local weather forecast and take all possible precautions.

Even when the amount of rainfall caused by torrential rain etc. is 20mm to 30mm, submergence may occur in urban areas.

About tornado advisories

An advisory that is issued against strong gusts of wind caused by tornadoes developed under thunderclouds, downbursts etc. Local meteorological observatory issues it for local areas (generally one prefecture) as complementary information on thunderstorm advisory. Advisory is usually in effect for an hour after being issued, but another tornado advisory is issued if a serious situation continues. This information is sent to the disaster prevention agency and media, and is also available on the internet.

("Weather information" on the website of Japan Meteorological Agency)

If there is a danger that the developed thundercloud may come closer, make sure to go to a shelter in a strong and sturdy building for safety.

Types of floods

Flood forecasts (Japan Meteorological Agency)

http://www.jma.go.jp/jp/flood/

After heavy rain, the water level in the river dramatically rises compared to the normal level. This is called river flood.

The water normally runs only in a small area of the river. This is the normal way rivers are supposed to run.

However, if the width of the river is totally covered by water, even the riverbank is hidden under water. This abnormal water level is called "River flood".

Water overflows and it goes to farm land or residential areas due to heavy rain etc. This is called "Overflow". Overflowing from rivers is called "Flooding resulting from levee breaks".

"Flooding resulting from accumulation of stormwater" occurs when rain directly accumulates on farm land or residential areas.

Disaster caused by water is called flood disaster.

"Flooding resulting from levee breaks" and "Flooding resulting from accumulation of stormwater" are also included in the flood disaster. However, flood disaster caused by ocean water is called storm surge disaster or tsunami disaster.

Water Level Information

In case of submersion (under 50cm)

- If water is moving quickly, we sometimes can't walk through even 10cm of water.
- O If there is a risk of falling down into the channel etc., it is dangerous to walk through even 10cm of water.

Flood damage level on cars (Indication)

- ① 10cm from the ground—Brakes are hard to engage.
- 2 30cm from the ground--- Engine fails.
- ③ 20 cm or more from the bottom of the doors— Car is washed away or the doors can't be opened due to water pressure.

In case of submersion (50cm or over)

When submersion level is 0.5m to 2.0m

Houses are flooded above the floor level. Also, bicycles can't be used and it is difficult to even walk. It seriously affects our life.

In case of submersion (2m or over)

When submersion level is over 2.0

The first floor in the house is totally flooded, and furniture and household goods get serious damage. Furthermore, the second floor or higher floors get flooded when the flood level is over 2m. As a result, our society and economy is severely affected.

Be Prepared for Storms and Floods

Heavy rain and stormy winds have caused many disasters. Pay attention to the weather forecast regularly and help each other when evacuating.

Our actions against disasters after obtaining heavy rain information.

At first, make sure to get reliable information and then take quick action!

When you obtain heavy rain information, take action to protect your family.
